

Native Plants

This brochure provides a list of native species that Colonial Gardens often carries in its inventory. Please note that some of the plants in this section may not be native to our particular area of PA and may be native to surrounding states. While our native section contains a representation of our native perennials, you will also find native species of trees and shrubs across the main aisle and may find other native perennials in other parts of our perennial beds. Colonial strives to expand our native selection every year, but we are dependent on our growers' selection and availability as well as customer demand. Sources for this brochure include the Audubon Society, PADCNR, Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center, and Penn State University.
